First-Year Experiences (FYEs)

Fall 2024 FYE Academic Assistant (FA) Application

Program Description

First-Year Experiences (FYEs) are designed to help students make a successful transition academically and socially into the University of Oregon. Each FYE has about 20 first-term students jointly enrolled in 2 core education courses as well as a 1-credit seminar style class. A faculty member and an undergraduate academic assistant lead the seminar-style course.

First-Year Programs seeks to hire approximately 20-30 new FYE Academic Assistants.

FYE Academic Assistant (FA) Position Description

The FA position offers exceptional undergraduate students the opportunity to be leaders and mentors to first-year students participating in an FYE. FAs assist faculty in the development, planning, and instruction of the course. FAs organize educational and social activities to better acquaint their students with each other, faculty members, and the University. These activities may include library orientation, study groups, lunch with a professor, field trips, and more.
