About the FIG:

In this FYE seminar we will explore public speaking and speaking in public – in other words: active ways to share your ideas and find your voice. This FIG pairs LING 101 and TA 271 to support a focus on communication through both language and embodied expression. In the seminar, we will use methods that come from theatre, voice, and language study while applying them to other classroom dynamics. We will also build presentation skills through formal/fun scenarios. We invite you to stretch outside comfort zones and try different strategies to Speak for Yourself!
