About the FIG:

Are you interested in learning about social issues around the world? Do you care about social inequalities in our community? In this FIG we examine food insecurity to explore questions of privilege and power in our communities here and around the world, particularly considering how our seemingly personal human experiences are shaped by larger social/cultural/political processes (intersections) and how these are differentially structured and valued (hierarchies). We focus particularly on food insecurity and basic needs in our community as we work together to build a supportive class community where we engage these dynamics through fun and collaborative social, research, and service-learning experiences. Recent classes have enjoyed going to the Saturday Market/Farmers' Market for lunch, a hike in the woods, riding the city bus, volunteering at Food for Lane County, working at the Grassroots Farm, and getting ice cream at Prince Puckler's. You will also have opportunities to learn about tools and resources on campus to facilitate your educational success at UO towards your career and life goals and to support your overall well-being. Explore social issues in a supportive community and have fun together while you learn!
